

“The people come first!”

This is your campaign. It’s your neighborhood, your future, and your city.
And if elected, I’ll be your man on the inside.

For too long now, Austin’s city government has chosen to concentrate on development over preserving our neighborhoods – especially downtown development. And that’s no choice at all.

My experience with RG4N got me into this fight. But I am not running because of what Wal-Mart wants to do to my neighborhood. I’m running because these kinds of things will keep happening to neighborhoods all over Austin unless we make a change.

I am running because when it comes to City Hall, we all deserve a guy on the inside to help us out. So for neighborhoods and downtown to achieve a real balance, we need new leadership on City Council.

I’m running because when something happens to your neighborhood or to your small business, you’ll need a friend in City Hall who will listen and help you.

I need you on my side to take on the City Hall insiders. So please join my campaign, and help spread the word. Please contribute your time, your money, and your vote. Let’s put the people first in Place One.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Jason".

About Jason Meeker:

- ★ 20 years in Austin
- ★ Responsible Growth for Northcross spokesman
- ★ Owns Jason Meeker Communications (Advertising copywriter & PR consultant)
- ★ UT Graduate

If elected, Jason Meeker will:

- ★ Create a new Department of Neighborhoods to protect and preserve homes and small businesses from irresponsible development
- ★ Create the Office of Public Advocate to monitor city actions for you and help you get answers when problems come up
- ★ Push Austin to become the national model for renewable energy
- ★ Work to keep Austin’s economy robust
- ★ Push practical changes to help reduce traffic NOW

For Austin City Council PLACE ONE

JASON
MEEKER

A blue line-art illustration of a hand with the index finger pointing upwards, positioned to the right of the name "JASON MEEKER".

jasonforaustin.com